WATERSTONE RESTORATIVE FOUNDATION

We are a family of animal lovers who believe in the healing companionship of all animals. Waterstone Restorative Foundation was built from the kinship found in a Tennessee Walker horse named Smokey and is continued because of all the other horses Smokey saved. Our mission through the Animal-Assisted Recovery Program is to rescue more animals (first starting with dogs and horses) to rehabilitate each one, and to professionally train them into service companions for individuals who are healing from depression, PTSD, and other mental and physical health issues.

ANIMAL-ASSISTED RECOVERY PROGRAM

RESCUE

Qualified personnel and volunteers work with the city, counties, and communities to rescue and treat abandoned, stray, or rehomed animals.

RECOVER

Qualified, and professional trainers work with each animal, providing group and individualized service animal training.

RESTORE

Waterstone interviews applicants to find the perfect partner for each animal and individual. Once matched, we work with the pair to help foster a strong and lasting relationship which includes quarterly check-ins each year.
